

COMMERCIAL

IMPORTS.

Per schr INDUSTRY, from Burrard Inlet—37 M feet lumber. Value, $370.

MARINE INTELLIGENCE.

ENTERED.
Sept. 20—Schr Industry, Carleton, Burrard Inlet
Schr Enterprise, Mount, New Westminster

Sept. 20—Boat Mary, Paga, Ocas Island
Schr A Crosby, Ketchikan, Alaska
Schr Matilda, Gilbert, Comox

BIRTHS.

At the Hospital, opposite New Westminster, on the 18th inst, the wife of Mr. James Kennedy, of a son.

At New Westminster, on the 19th inst, the wife of Mr. J. A. Webster, of a son.

PROSPECTING PARTY RETURNED.—A

prospecting party consisting of three miners, who have been away nearly a month on a private prospecting tour, returned to Barkerville on Thursday evening. They have been about 100 miles from William Creek in a north-east direction, and they speak of the district in which they have been as apparently the finest gold bearing country they have ever seen. They prospected numerous creeks in all of which they found the color, and in some the most encouraging prospects. On one they sunk a shaft about ten feet through gravel which yielded good prospects all the way down; not having sufficient provisions they were forced to leave and return here. They consider that they were in the same section of country where Vaughan has been prospecting, and to which John McLean's party have also gone; they are confident that Vaughan has struck good diggings, and they are very sanguine of John McLean's success in the same direction. In returning here they came on McLean's camping ground of the 30th ult., about 80 miles from this creek. Our informants, who are most respectable, trustworthy, and experienced miners, are confident that the new El Dorado of this country is in the north-east, and that the time is not distant when most important discoveries will be announced from that section of the colony.—Cariboo Sentinel.

THE VACANT SEAT.—We have the authority

of Mr. Joseph Daspard Pemberton for stating that he is a candidate for the representation of Esquimalt and Metchosin District in the next session of the House of Assembly. Mr. Pemberton's long residence in the colony, his thorough and practical knowledge of the country, derived while occupying the position of Surveyor General, and his well known views on the fiscal policy best adapted to the requirements of the island, are recommendations that at once commend him to the electors of the two districts.

DISCHARGED.—His Honor the Chief Justice

yesterday delivered a long judgment in the matter of Campbell, who was recently sentenced by the magistrate at Sooke to pay a fine of $500 or to suffer ten months' imprisonment. Campbell was discharged by reason of defects in the warrant of commitment. Mr. McCroight, instructed by Messrs. Bishop and Courtney appeared for Campbell.

ANOTHER STEAMER.—Capt. Carlin, of the Portland, states that when he left San Francisco an idea was entertained by some merchants and shippers of securing the steamer Ajax for this trade, should the present line be discontinued. The Ajax is a fine new screw steamer of some fourteen hundred tons burden and capable of carrying about 40 first-class passengers.

COMORANT STREET ROWS.—Some Port

Rupert and Songish Indians were fined yesterday in the Police Court $25 each, for fighting and creating disturbances in the public streets, and others were ordered to find security to keep the peace. If the fines were paid the revenue would receive $75, a good item for the Colonial Secretary and Auditor.

AMPUTATIONS.—Three individuals, one female and two males, have had to undergo amputation of the leg during this week. In two cases the operation was successfully performed above the knee joint and the patients it is hoped are in a fair way of recovery.

FIREMAN'S ELECTION.—Notice is given

observed that the election of Chief and Assistant Engineer of the Fire Department will be held at the Tiger Engine House on Monday, October 2, at 10 a.m. The polls to close at 4 p.m.

THE JEWISH NEW YEAR commenced last evening at half-past six, and will be observed until Friday evening at the same hour. Service was held in the Synagogue. Most of the places of business belonging to members of the persuasion will remain closed.

DEBATING CLASS.—The subject for this evening's debate is the following: "Are our liberties more endangered by Aristocracy than Democracy." Messrs. Babbitt and Dissette appellants. Messrs. Crawford and Seabury, respondents.

THE ANTLER BED-ROCK FLEW CO.—The

Directors of the Company yesterday received information from their Superintendent that this week received no material injury from the recent floods, and that the work was proceeding.

THE BED OF H.M.S. SUTLEY.—We are

pleased to learn the Bed of H.M.S. Sutley will perform in front of the Public Offices, James Bay, on Saturday next from 2 to 5 p.m.

ANOTHER NEGRO FOUND AT LEACH RIVER.

We learn from Mr. Fairhead that a negro worth $40 has been found by an Italian named George, between Bacon Bar and the Mountain Rose Co.

NEW MASTS.—The steamer Eliza Anderson

went under the H. B. Company's masts yesterday to have her old masts removed and new ones stepped.

THE CRICKET MATCH between the Victoria

and City clubs announced to take place on Saturday has, we are informed, been postponed.

FEMALE INFIRMARY.—The Ladies Committee will be obliged for contributions of old linen or calico to be left at the Infirmary, or at the residence of any of the ladies.

LONDON HOUSE.—Messrs. J. H. Turner &amp;

Co. have added to their well selected stock, per recent arrivals from England, a choice and fashionable assortment of Autumn and Winter Dress Goods, of the most fashionable and desirable patterns.

THE GEN OF THE TOLER, the world says,

is Sazopont. It renders the tooth poorly white, gives to the breath a fragrant odor, and is an excellent remedy for toothache.

SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

TELEGRAPHIC.

Special Dispatch to the "Colonist."

EASTERN NEWS.

Shocking Murder at Augusta.—State

Convention Election in S. C.—The South Endorses the President's policy—Scotch Settlement in Virginia—Reduction of the Navy—Penitentiary.

New York, Sept. 9.—Savannah correspondence of the 5th contains an account of the murder of Capt. Husbidge of the 33d U. S. colored troops at Augusta, on the night of the 3d, by three young members of the most respectable families at that place. It appears the captain was discovered in company with a mulatto girl who was mistress of one of the men. They attacked him with revolvers; one shot penetrating the neck and proving mortal. Not satisfied with this they proceeded to stab the victim with knives. The murder was made of burning the city. The murderers were arrested and quiet restored.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Tribune's special says that the President is preparing a large number of proposals for carrying mails throughout the South. When these contracts are closed the post offices will be reopened in the most prominent towns and cities.

New York, Sept. 11.—Late advices from South Carolina state that the election of delegates to the State Convention passed off quietly on Tuesday. Only about a quarter of the voters on the Union ticket were elected. The majority are conservatives. Wade Hampton and several officers of the Confederate army have been returned by large majorities.

The special from Jackson says it is rumored that Slocum has tendered his resignation in consequence of the President's endorsement of Sharkey's action. The news is predicated confidentially that colored troops will be ordered out of the State for mutinying out, or transferred to another locality. The South is satisfied with President Johnson's policy.

The Washington special says a large delegation from Georgia, Alabama, Florida, Mississippi, and Virginia is at the White House. Their object is to notify the President that his policy and course towards the South is meeting with general approval of the people of those States. The delegation declared that in return they will give the Administration their most cordial support.

New York, Sept. 12.—A Scotch agent now here has secured a large tract of land in Virginia where a colony of Scotch emigrants will settle in November or December.

Sr. Louis, Sept. 12.—The plan proposed to the Indians in the Council at Fort Smith stipulates that slavery must be abolished and the freedmen have the right of being incorporated into the tribes on equal footing with other members thereof.

New York, Sept. 14.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the Navy will only have as many vessels in commission as at the commencement of the war. Only three iron clads will be retained; the rest are to be laid up in Delaware Bay below Philadelphia.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Irish press special says that by the close of the year the

